The Twenty-First Century University: Developing Faculty Engagement in Internationalization

By Lisa K. Childress

Peter Lang Publishing Inc, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 1st New edition. 221 x 150 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. During the last few decades, many university presidents and provosts have expressed an intent to internationalize their institutions to equip students with the broad intellectual skills necessary to succeed in the global twenty-first century. But as various academic and professional studies have shown, these well-intentioned calls for internationalization have remained little more than rhetoric. Obstacles embedded in developing faculty engagement in internationalization are largely responsible for this inability to turn rhetoric into reality. This groundbreaking book identifies what successful institutions have done to overcome endogenous challenges and successfully engage faculty in the internationalization process. Examining two exemplary cases of internationalization, this book extrapolates strategies for colleges and universities to adapt to their unique institutional cultures, histories, and priorities, to support faculty in internationalizing their teaching, research, and service. In addition to in-depth analysis of each successful institution, the book analyzes cross-case findings and implications. This book presents a new conceptual model and typology of faculty engagement in internationalization that can be used both by university administrators to expand faculty involvement in the implementation of their institution...

Reviews

Completely essential read book. It is one of the most remarkable publication i have got study. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
